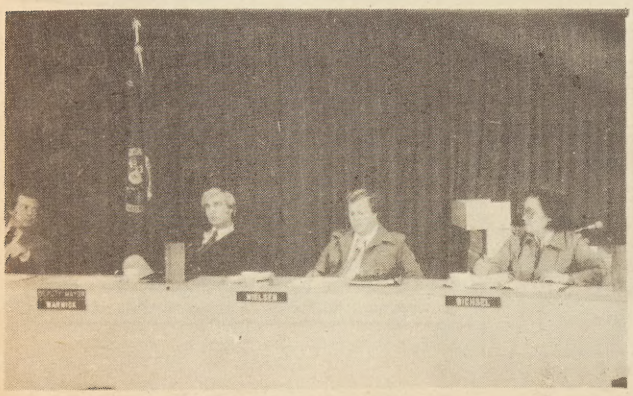
COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND CITY COUNCIL RESPOND FAVORABLY TO NEEDS OF LOW-INCOME CITIZENS



By A. Hart

Recently, an organization called "Hilltop Action Council" (HAC), held a mass meeting in conjunction with the Community Development Department. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss ways to make the program more responsive to the needs of low-income people. It was determined by the group (HAC) that rich people in the city were reaping benefits from the CD monies-having abandoned houses demolished at tax payers expense.

The director of Community Development Department (CDD) Garry Sullivan, signed a statement at that meeting which indicated that he was in favor of a policy change. He also stated that he would take "this matter to the city council." The first hearing on the issue was held at the regular meeting of the council on Tuesday night, July 12th. Keith Palmquist, assistant Director CDD, presented an informal request to the council. Members of the council responded with questions such as: "Will this change in policy benefit only the citizens in Tacoma's central area?" "Could this program be expanded to cover all areas of the city?" "What will HUD say about changing the policy?" All questions were answered by Mr. Palmquist. Councilman Sonntag stated that when demolition was to be done, "there should be some effort to contact local contractors." He went on to say, after hearing the concerns of one citizen, that the city manager speak to the human relations department about the possibility of red-lining being present in Tacoma.

The council voted to postpone the matter until next council session, at which time there will be more information provided for the council. According to Keith Palmquist, the group (HAC) will be presenting him and the council with a written request prior to the next hearing on the 19th of July.

SCHOOL DISTRICT ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT RETIRES

Tac Facts July 2077

Breckenridge accepts token from Tacoma Urban League.

Mrs. E. Breckenridge receives flowers.

By Kevin McKenzie

Dr. Eugene Breckenridge, the first and only Black to wear the administrative title of assistant superintendent in the Tacoma school district, officially retired June 30, 1977 at age 65.

As the assistant superintendent for affirmitive action and community affairs, Dr. Breckenridge feels that his tasks are well on the road to completion. "We did everything we said we'd do, in affirmitive action we've obtained our short-range goal of bringing minorities into the district, and as far as Title IX (women's rights) is concerned, we upgraded nine women to administrative positions this year. We also completely desegregated the schools according to state and federal guidelines."

A 12-year veteran of the Tacoma school district, he was reluctant to retire just because he was born in 1912. "It's compulsory to retire at 65, otherwise I wouldn't retire. It takes time to learn a job, if a person is able to do it and he's functioning, why compel him to get out of the way for somebody else? My wife wishes I had retired 26 years ago."

Now that Dr. Breckenridge has been compelled to report to pasture, he plans to "raise hell."

"When you're in the school system you're in a glass cage. People say "I wouldn't expect that of a man in your position," well, I'm not in that position now. Instead of telling them to go to hades, I'll tell them to go to hell!"

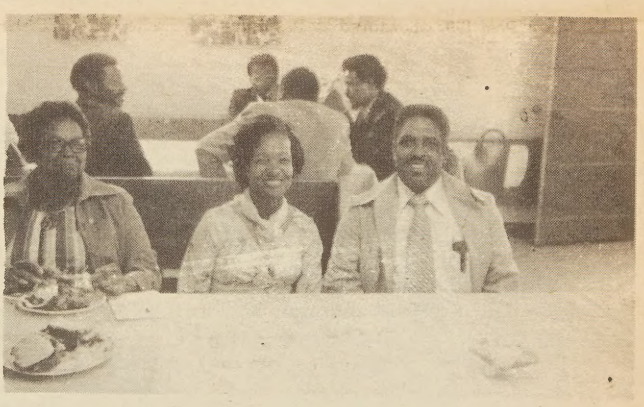
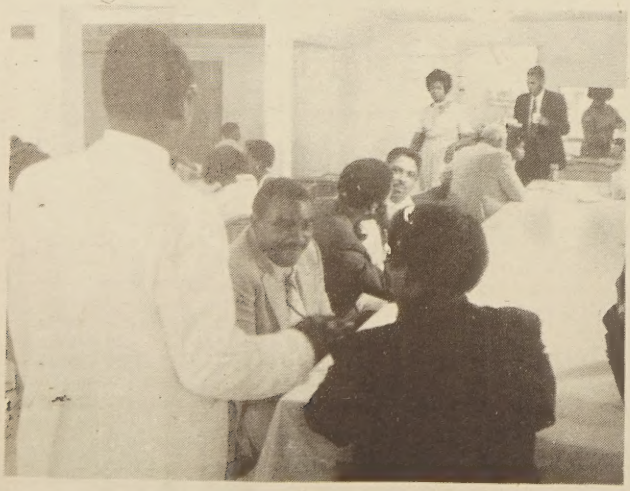
REV. & MRS. CRITTEDON CELEBRATE SIXTH ANNIVERSARY





Rev. and Mrs. Ivory Crittedon celebrated their sixth anniversary last Sunday at 23rd and Sheridan Street Church of God and Christ.

The members from several other churches were present for the event. The event was positively a "breath-taking experience". The food was prepared and served prior to the main event. Several members brought dishes of all kinds and served from the kitchen. Most of the kitchen staff were members of Brotherhood Church of God and Christ. The main event consisted of choirs from various churches.

Rev. and Mrs. Ivory Crittedon were most greatful and thanked all the wonderful people who made their sixth anniversary one they will long remember.

TEE & TURF GOLF CLUB NEWS

Right, Sgt. Major William Turner

By Morgan Giles

The Tee & Turf Golf Club played at Allenmore Golf Course and there seemed to be some goodbye for one of our members. He's playing his last game for now, due to the decision of the Army. There was lots of cake for all. So until we see you again Sgt. Major Turner, real soon, you will be missed. I don't have any scores this week, but the players of the week were Earl (Three Wood) Goodlow and Charles (Any Hand) Carrington. So there you have it for this week. Sorry yours truly was not there to keep everyone honest. But we'll be there next Sunday when we host Fir State Golf Club from Seattle. So for all members, get out there. Tee time for Capital City is 10:45. See you on the first tee.

SCOUTING

The second cub-Dad weekend was July 16-17. We had a total of 22 packs and 200 cubs and Dads at Camp Hahobas. The cubs spent the weekend on the rifle range, swimming, boating, archery, nature study, hiking and fishing. There were reported a number of 17 and 19 inch trout caught at Robbins Lake. Everyone has a lot of fun. We are looking forward to the next weekend of cub-Dad camping and the beautiful scenery.

The district officers picnic will be held on July 30th at the picnic area right on the point. We are all looking forward to the fun we will have at this annual gathering.

REICHHOLD CHEMICAL COMPANY UNDERSTANDS THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE

By A. Hart

Recently, there was a serious misunderstanding in the English language, Reichhold Chemical, located on Taylor Way in Tacoma, made a deal with a local businessman to bury some chemicals that were not to be used. The businessman was paid by the company to bury this chemical, but some how this same chemical found its way into other hands. The product was "being sold instead of buried". Of course there are some complexities in the English language, but maybe one could get the two words confused--bury and sell-depending upon educational level and one's understanding of the economic system.

Maybe the businessman felt that capitalism wouldn't allow this chemical to be destroyed, instead he decided that since capitalism says, "Get for as cheap as you can, sell for as high as you can, and if you can't sell it, put it in a can and sit on it until the price goes up," he would do just that. But then the legal system didn't agree with capitalism, in that, since the product was not to be used, and it was agreed upon by Reichhold and this businessman that Reichhold would pay to have this chemical hauled away and buried, the legal system couldn't allow capitalism to have its way. Reichhold Chemical Company is now in the process of cleaning up the mess. To confuse the words "sell" and "bury" could cause some problems, and could be costly. If there is any doubt as to the definition of the two words, ask Reichhold Chemical or check with Mr. Webster.

ADVENTISTS SPONSOR STOP SMOKING PROGRAM

A tested and proven way to smother the smoking habit will be presented at the Central Seventh Day Adventist Church, N. Sixth and Sprague streets, for five days beginning at 7:30 p.m. July 24.

The free public stop smoking clinic will be directed by Dr. F.H. Stutz, head of the Cancer Control department at Madigan Army Hospital. He will conduct group therapy and hold question and answer sessions.

Outlining the seriousness of the problem, Dr. Stutz said bronchitis, emphysema, coronary disease and heart attacks are side effects of smoking as well as cancer. Also, he remarked, women who smoke during pregnancy have a much greater chance of giving premature birth than the nonsmoker.

Dispelling the myth that air pollution causes as much cancer and other respiratory disease as smoking. Dr. Stutz said, "Peo0le who do not smoke breathe the same polluated air as smokers, yet the incidence of cancer is significantly less in the nonsmoker."

The Five Day Plan to stop smoking, termed successful internationally and in many American cities, features topics like how craving can be reduced, will power reinforced, organization of a Buddy system and many other techniques that will help break the habit.

The course is a strictly non-denominational community service. Said Dr. Stutz, "For smokers who want to become nonsmokers, the free Five Day Plan to stop smoking offers expert help."

Stortini to Lead Government Division

Pierce County Commissioner Joe Stortini will lead this year's United Way drive among city, county and state employees, General Campaign Chairman W. Ray Highsmith announced today.

Stortini's campaign team will ask for contributions from the nearly 7,000 government workers employed in Pierce County to help support 40 agencies in 1978. The two-month campaign, scheduled to begin September 13, is aiming toward a $2.2 million target; the largest ever in the 25 hear history of United Way.

By Kevin McKenzie

As the Anita Bryant versus Gay Rights political battle rages on, gay spokesmen repeatedly equate their struggle for civil rights and equal protection under the law with movements being fought by Blacks, women, and other legitimate minorities.

It appears that the homosexual community is calling upon all minority groups to support the gay cause, simply because gays have elected to call themselves a "minority".

As a member of a recognized minority group, Blacks, I vehemently resent being connected with the homosexual rights movement in any way, shape, or form. If gay rights advocates cannot find enough moral and political backbone within their own community to support the gay cause, without claiming unendorsed support from genuine minorities, then the gay crusade deserves to go limp in defeat.

Politics may make strange bedfellows, but politics will never put me in bed with the gay rights movement.

Community Development Fills Vacant Homes

for Facts July 2077

Jacquelyn Joseph thinks about how she wants to fix up her new Homestead house near Stanley School.

The City's Community Development Department is accepting vacant homes and finding new owners who will make needed home improvements.

Tacoma is in its second year of the Urban Homestead Program which gives homes repossessed by the federal government to low and moderate income families. The families must make improvements required by the City's Minimum Housing Code and live in the home for at least three years.

Vacant homes have been a hazard and nuisance to neighborhoods in Tacoma and throughout the country. Homesteading carries a double impact. Vacant, repossessed homes are occupied more quickly than through the normal process and needy families own a home which they could not afford to buy on their own.

Some of the families have made the repairs themselves so they are buying a house for the cost of the materials they use. Others, who cannot do their own work, hire a contractor through the Community Development Department's bidding procedure. Three precent interest loans are made to families who need financial assistance to pay for the repairs.

Seventeen homes, 12 in the Hilltop and 5 on the East Side, have already been rehabilitated by their owners, and 16 more, also located in the Hilltop and East Side are now awaiting rehabilitation. Families who applied for the program this year are waiting for about 10 more homes Tacoma expects to receive this year.

The Community Development Department anticipates a third year of Homestead funding because of the success in Tacoma and across the country. Tacoma was one of the first 22 cities selected for the trial program, and now homesteading has been expanded to 38 cities. Applications for homes received under the third year program will be accepted after the first of the year.

For information on the Community Development Department's housing rehabilitation services call 593-4660 or visit the office at 909 Broadway Plaza.

New money for your old house.

Now you can renovate your home when it's ready to be renovated. Instead of waiting until you're ready to absorb the large monthly payments that usually accompany the standard home improvement loan.

At Washington Mutual, we make it possible with our 8-10-12 Rehab Loan. Simply put, it makes money available to you when you need it, by stretching your payments out over a longer period of time. And it makes the early payments more affordable by keeping the interest rate down. For example—the interest rate for the first five years is 8%; the rate for the second five years is 10%; and the rate for the final five years is 12%. Most important, there's no prepayment penalty—you can pay off the loan any time you want, with no additional charge.

Here's an example of how it works: For a typical $8,000 loan, payments would be about $76 for the first 5 years, $83 for the next 5, and about $87 for the final 5. The Annual Percentage Rate on the loan, if carried out to maturity, would be 9.25%. Total payments would be $14,760.

To qualify, we consider you on the basis of your own credit strength, not your neighborhood or the age of your house. Any proposed rehabilitation is eligible if it improves your home's basic livability or reduces future maintenance costs and is not of a luxury nature. A licensed contractor must do the work, and the job must be inspected according to the building permit. Also, Washington Mutual must be in at least a second lien position and we are unable to loan money on homes being purchased on contract.

Talk to a friend at Washington Mutual today, and find out about the 8/10/12 Rehab Loan.

Your home is a valuable asset. We'd like to help keep it that way.

the friend of the family.

Property Tax Sale December 2

Preparations have started for the annual foreclosure sale of properties for which taxes are delinquent for the year 1972, Pierce County Treasurer Maurice Raymond said today. The tentative date for the sale is Friday, December 2nd. This date may change as the foreclosure preparations proceed.

At this time several hundred parcels, including drainage assessments, are delinquent for 1972. As in the past year, this figure is expected to be reduced to approximately 75 at the time of the sale.

Raymond advised that taxpayers should arrange to pay their taxes immediately if they wish to avoid paying additional administrative costs which will start accruing this month. These costs are expected to run over $100.000 per parcel.

The sale of these properties will take place at 9:00 A.M. on the date of sale in the 1st floor lobby of the Pierce County-City Building.

BRAZIER NAMED CHIEF OF CIVIL SERVICE RIGHTS IN FAA

Toe Roots July 20 77

Martin G. Brazier of Federal Way, WA., has been named Chief of the Civil Rights Staff in the Federal Aviation Administration's (FAA) Regional Headquarters at Boeing Field.

The appointment, announced by FAA's Regional Director C. B. Walk, Jr., is part of the FAA Career Progression Program designed to place qualified employees in key management positions.

Brazier has served as Assistant Chief of the Civil Rights Staff for the past two years and succeeds Robert M. Nishi who transferred from the FAA to a position with the Dept. of Health, Education, and Welfare, Social Security Administration., Portland, OR.

In his new position, Brazier will administer the Civil Rights Program of the FAA Northwest Region (Washington, Oregon, and Idaho). He manages the Civil Rights Program, Federal Women's Program, Spanish-Speaking Program, and other general EEO programs for more than 1,800 FAA employees in the 3-state Region. His staff conducts the EEO and Civil Rights Compliance inspections at various airports that are recipients of Airport Development Aid Program (ADAP) funds in the NW Region.

A career federal employee, Brazier joined the FAA in 1971 as a personnel staffing specialist. He joined the Civil Rights Staff in 1972. Active in Tacoma and Seattle civic affairs, Brazier has been honored twice by the CSC Seattle Federal Executive Board--in 1973 as "Federal Empolyee of the Year" and in 1976 he received the "Community Service Award" for outstanding p public service in community and church activities.

Brazier was a staffing specialist at the Federal Penitentiary at McNeil Island, WA., prior to joining the FAA.

A long-time resident of Tacoma, Brazier graduated from Stadium High School. He received a BA degree from Pacific Lutheran University and is a licensed airplane pilot. He will soon receive his commercial pilot's rating with instrument, multi-engine, and flight instructor ratings. Home is Federal Way, WA. Janie, his wife, and Marty are parents of Kimberly, 6, and "little Marty", 3.

WANDA SAYS

PET PEEVES
By Wanda Jackson

Do you have little things that just seem to get under you skin like:
Two people in cars coming from opposite directions, stopping in the middle of the road talking, and blocking traffic from both directions.
Someone grabbing your pen or pencil when you lay it down.
Someone reading over your shoulder.
Goingto the rest room and finding there isn't any paper.
Looking for something and not finding it (especially when you need it).
Buying something at the store and finding out there is a screw missing when trying to put it together.
Being in a crowded area and someone has't had a bath in a month of Sundays.
Going out to your car in the morning and finding the battery is dead or you have a flat tire and it is snowing or raining.
Going 60 miles to the lake and finding out you left the boat keys home.
Sitting and enjoying peace and quietness and your son turns his stereo on so loud ou can't hear anything but boom, boom, boom! (I sometimes thing I'll take the power tube out of that thing).
Getting a Christmas card and no last name or no return address on the envelope.
Someone calling in the middle of the night and it is the wrong number.
Before you get too upset with my pet peeves, think of some of you own and laugh at mine. But don't forget you can run out of gas on the freeway and that isn't funny.
